

“Help!” moaned a voice. Esther was home alone and heard a voice...

“Help!” there it was again. She was now getting freaked out, so she decided to take a look around the house; she searched the house top to bottom. She couldn’t find anything! Now she was extremely worried. Her parents, told her to never go up in the loft, however she thought that’s where the noise was coming from. “Help!” the voice said again. She decided that she needed to know so she goes up...

She approached the huge, dusty loft. She turned on her torch and pointed it in every direction. Esther spotted something or someone. Whatever it was, it was sitting in the corner singing “ring a ring a roses...” Esther was petrified. The little girl had: short, jet black hair, pale white face and sharp, black teeth. Esther was getting a feeling that she should leave now before it was too late! Esther was thinking the girl was a vampire! But who will return first mum or Esther?
