

The zombie of terror

“Great I’m locked in” grumbled jack.

It was really dark in the room and Jack couldn’t see anything but bright green eyes.

“Hey is any one in here because I can see your green eyes” asked jack.

“Yes someone is in here” said a deep horrible voice. A dark shadow appeared.

“HELP ME!” screamed jack

Coming towards Jack was a big massive zombie. It was screaming really loudly and it was really angry. Jack was trying to knock the door but the zombie got cut because the glass was smashing. The zombie was running so slow that Jack could go faster. Jack found a massive metal pole. He bashed him. He cut him and he took him down.

The next day, Jack had to stay there. The zombie was all bloody so he couldn’t touch him. He phoned up the police and they quickly rushed. When the police got there they phoned up people in white.
