

Cooking oil tornado

What you need:

A tall transparent container, some water, cooking oil and a spoon

What you do

Half fill the transparent container with water.

Add some cooking oil and observe.

Do you think you could get the two liquids to mix together if you stirred hard enough?

Try to mix the oil and water, look at your container from the side)

Write what happens or take photos